Wide Range
The slides emphasize painting d sculpture, but cover a wide nge of topics, including architure, stained glass, tapestries, natures, ceramics, objects d'art, titles, furniture, religious treases, documents, posters, and even planes and factories.
The series traces French cultar and historical development on the origins of Occidental art interpretations of modern art d architecture.
The arts are shown in the control of political, social, intellectual d technical influences of each clod. For example, Napoleon is unined through the works of coue David, who painted histories.

Art Club Project

Dr. Kline said he hopes to make nowings a project for the Art lub this spring. He said a "large mber" of people would view the slides if they were presented in Lisner Auditorium. One problem, he said, is the lack of a suitable projector for use with a large screen at Lisner.

The course may be presented for credit. Dr. Kline said the possibility has been discussed and is "very feasible." Such a course could not be offered before perty "very feasible." Such a course could not be offered before next fall, however.

The collection will be kept intact, and the slides will not be filed away with the art department's present collection of about 20,000 slides.

Too Expensive

Dr. Kline said a salesman for Cultural History Research Inc., which produces the set commercially, visited here a year ago. The University did not buy the series at that time because it was too expensive, he said.

A company spokesman, Mrs. Wilfriede Donnelly, said the series originally sold for $1,800. Recently, however, the price dropped to $900 following a big advertising

It's you, princess, when you have the Jack Winter look. But whoa ... take a minute to learn about the subject of stretch. Because once you put yourself in Jack Winter stretch pants, you are going to get the eye test. Be darn sure you can pass. Questions. Should you wear stretch pants? What kind of figure does it take? Most all figures are flattered by stretch, whether angular, triangular, or a figure eight. Even if you have an hourglass figure where all the sand has sunk to the bottom, stretch pants can do quick subtracting. You won't need a grease job to slip in, but there's no sag, bag or bind either. Jack Winter cuts 'em just right...lean and ladylike...proportioned in your proper leg-length. So it's you and Jack Winter getting all those straight-on, slant-eyed, turn-about-face looks. He said experience isn't necessary. Only one of his eight players, a student from Boston, has played much hockey. Two others, from North Carolina, have never picked up a stick. He expects at least four more students to sign up this week.

"This year we just want to get organized, to see if there is any interest," he said. "Everyone who signs up will play. We're not just out to win."

The team will compete in the Washington Metropolitan League, now composed of Georgetown University and three other teams called the Rebels, Canucks and Mercuries, All squads are affiliated with the Potomac Amateur Ice Hockey Association (PAIHA).

Macintyre said players must pay $25 for ice time and other expenses, and $3 for PAIHA membership. They must also provide their own equipment, including skates, pads, sweater and sticks.

Buff Five Upsets Georgetown 77-69, in Saturday Cliff-Hanger

by Bill Fredenberger THE COLONIALS mounted a

3-3 record in holiday cage competition, highlighted by a 77-69 upset over the Georgetown Hoyas last Saturday night that put the Buff in first place in the area "Big Three" competition for the Lettermen's Trophy.

Big Joe Adamitis gave the small-r Georgetown squad fits as he cored 26 points and pulled down 5 rebounds before a home crowd f 2400 at Fort Myer gym.

of 2400 at Fort Myer gym.

It was a see-saw battle through most of the game with the lead changing hands 12 times before Mark Clark hit on a jump shot with 4:02 to go to put the Colonials in front for good. Then with the score 65-63 Adamitis hit on a hook shot and Clark swapped a pair of fouls with Owen-Gillen to keep the contest in doubt.

Last Minute Shots

With two minutes to go Phil Aruscavage cashed in on two free throws and one minute later Clark settled the issue by adding four straight points to bring the tally to 75-67.

Georgetown was hobbled by the absence of its leading scorer, Jim Christy, for the entire second half, but Jimmy Broun, the Hoya floor leader, filled in until he fouled out

The fast moving Colonial squad outlasted the smaller Hilltop cagers even in the foul department since Clark was the only GW player to foul out while the Hoyas lost three.

Two Other Victories

Two Other Victories
On Dec. 16 and 18 GW racked up its other two victories with a 102-81 trouncing of The Citadel and a 60-57 triumph over Richmond. In the Citadel game Clark led the Buff to a 49-34 half-time lead and the game was never in doubt after that. The GW lead reached 35 points at times in the second half which enabled Cqach Reinhart to put in his reserves with seven minutes to go.

Although Clark fouled out midway in the second half he netted 29 points and made some spectacular passes to teammates Ric Duques, Ken Legins, and Harvey Malis. Legins started slow but warmed up to a 19-point total while Joe Adamitis, who didn't start, ran up 15.

Richmond took a lesser beating from the Buff than The Citadel but it was just as decisive. Duques and Clark paired up on the back

Double-D' Scores On National TV

• DICK DRUMMOND, switching jersey numbers from 44 to 21, and switching teams from the Colonials to the North in the Senior Bowl, romped around the field and scored one of the North's touchdowns in a 28 to 21 game loss.

Playing on both offensive and defensive teams, Drummond played excellent football, gaining both on the ground and on the receiving end of passes. It was on a pass from players in the country, by break-Utah's Bill Munson that Dick was able to bull his way over the goal

Utah's Bill Munson that Dick was able to bull his way over the goal line, scoring six points for the North. He also intercepted a pass which launched a drive for the North's first touchdown.

'Mr. Double-D' earned his position among the fifty top senior players in the country by breaking all previous Colonial scoring records. He has also been previously drafted by the world champion Chicago Bears,

He received $700 for his participation in the Senior Bowl, while the winning team players received $900 for their efforts.

W. Va. Cagers to Invade D.C. Coliseum on Saturday

e THE MOUNTAINEERS of West Virginia will meet the Coloniale this Saturday at Washington Coliseum, in the latest game of a series that stretches back to 1926. In that year, the Mountaineers won the first game 52-30 and lost the second to the Colonials 39-16. Since the first meeting, WVU has won 21, games, which includes 14 of the last 15, and lost 11.

The Mountaineers, who have been the Southern Conference Champions for eight out of the last nine years, are playing this year without the great All-Americans of the past nine years. Actually, many feel that this could be the worst West Virginia season since 1953-54.

Dec. 19, the Mountaineers beat William and Mary 78-73, but went on to lose its next two games to Southern Cal (81-65) and Illinois (92-86). On Dec. 28 the Mountain-eers managed to squeeze by Yale, 69-66, yet the following Furman

This year Colonial prospects are bright for a victory over this traditional rival. With many of the best Mountaineers now graduated, it would be surprising to see that team break even in '63-64.

Scoring Spree
The Colonials were behind 46-39 with 14 minutes left when Clark went on a 14-point scoring spree to give him high scoring hone with 20. With 45 seconds to go and the Buff trailing by one point Adamitis scored on a pass from Legins to make it 58-57.

Richmond stalled for the last play but Duques, on a sharp defensive move, knocked the ball away to Phil Aruscavage, Aruscavage passed back to Duques who was fouled, and he sunk two in a one and one situation to end the contest.

Trade Teams

Trade Teams

The next night the teams traded opponents, but the Colonials couldn't trade sides on the score-board. Mississippi State outmanned the GW cagers 86-81 in much the same fashion as they handled Virginia the night before. The Buff dropped a nine-point half-time lead with 13 minutes to go, and the Bulldogs crushed the Colonials with 12 consecutive free throws in the final minutes.

GW rallied twice, narrowing the margin to 74-73 with 3:53 to go and 82-81 with 19 seconds left, but Don Gosey's two free throws clinched the game for Mississippi

The Gobblers of VPI handed GW its third straight defeat, 83-76, on Dec. 30 in Blacksburg, Va., as the Colonials dropped a 46-43 half-time lead. The Buff started giving up the ball without shooting, and VPI wasted no time in capitalizing on this ineptness.

With a 68-68 score, Fred Medley put in a jump shot and Howard Pardue made three straight baskets to put the Buff permanently behind. Pardue was high scorer with 22 points, but Joe Adamitis managed a respectable 21 points after pulling down 10 rebounds, the same number grabbed by Aruscavage.
